JUST SMOKE

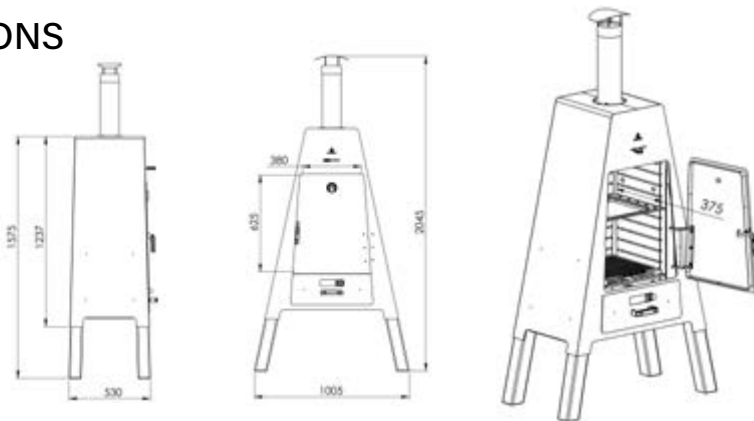

SMOKER by masuria

Masuria SMOKER

Masuria SMOKER is more than just a compact smoking device – it's a carefully crafted outdoor appliance designed to become a true centerpiece in the garden. Combining aesthetic appeal with full functionality, it delivers a seamless user experience while enhancing the space with its distinctive, architectural form.

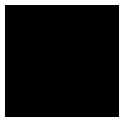

Engineered with attention to detail, this unit is built to last, operate smoothly, and meet the expectations of discerning barbecue and smoke enthusiasts.

DIMENSIONS

MATERIALS & CONSTRUCTION

The SMOKER features a sturdy steel body, with an interior chamber made of stainless steel for long-lasting durability and ease of cleaning. It stands on solid acacia wood legs, known for their strength and resistance to outdoor conditions. The combination of robust metal and natural wood makes this unit both functional and timeless in appearance.

BLACK EDITION – powder-coated steel in matte black

CORTEN EDITION – Corten steel with a naturally weathered, rust-like patina

Both variants share the same technical specifications and features, differing only in surface finish to match either a modern or rustic setting.

APPLICATION

Designed for hot smoking, the Masuria SMOKER is perfect for preparing meats, fish, or cheeses with authentic, wood-fired flavor. The high-performance body ensures stable temperatures throughout the smoking process, while simple controls and intuitive handling guarantee excellent results – every time.
