Alpha 800

Corten Steel

Beauty That Lasts

Corten steel is renowned for its natural weather-resistant patina, which develops over time, protecting the material from corrosion. This durable steel not only withstands the harshest conditions but also adds a rustic, elegant charm to outdoor settings.

Its unique ability to age gracefully makes it a preferred material in luxury garden design and architectural projects. Over the years, corten's warm tones and organic texture have become a symbol of sophistication and durability, ideal for creating premium outdoor experiences in both commercial and private spaces.

Clean Combustion

A Smokeless Revolution

The Alpha 800 features an advanced combustion system that ensures up to 95% smoke reduction. Unlike traditional fire pits, which release visible smoke and soot, the Alpha 800 provides a clean and efficient burn.

On the left, a conventional fire pit produces dense smoke, while the Alpha 800, shown on the right, demonstrates nearly smokeless combustion. This innovation not only enhances user comfort but also reduces maintenance, making it a perfect choice for terraces, private gardens, and outdoor events. With Alpha 800, your outdoor spaces stay inviting, clean, and effortlessly elegant.

MODERN TASTE

Alpha 800 is designed to inspire, offering a blend of modern design, durability, and advanced combustion technology. Its nearly smokeless system creates a clean and welcoming atmosphere, ideal for outdoor gatherings and exclusive events.

Made from premium corten or stainless steel, it is built to withstand demanding weather conditions while maintaining its refined aesthetic. Perfectly suited for hotel terraces, private gardens, or event spaces, Alpha 800 brings both elegance and practicality to premium outdoor settings. Trusted by architects and landscape designers, it seamlessly integrates into sophisticated outdoor projects, becoming a centerpiece in luxury gardens or enhancing the functionality of hospitality venues. Whether for commercial use or private enjoyment, Alpha 800 delivers unmatched quality and timeless appeal.
